Wayne Milburn

Wayne Milburn local Bow Valley artist, has been living and working in the mountain area and scenes he loves for the past 35 years.

Growing up in Kingston, Ontario, his childhood interest in art lead him to formal studies in Graphics and Interior Design at Durham College in Oshawa, Ontario and Architectural Technology at Loyalist College in Belleville, Ontario.

Wayne's mediums used in his work have spanned watercolours, acrylics, oils, pen and ink. His mentors and teachers have included local and prominent Canadian Artists such as Robert Bateman, James Keirstead, Mike Svob and American wildlife artist John Banovich.

Wayne has generously donated his works for many local fundraising charities. Wayne and his artwork have been committed sponsors for Duck's Unlimited since 1996.

His work portrays his love of outdoor life - camping in the mountains, painting and living the western flavour of the Rockies and the foothills of Alberta.

You may see his many works at his studio workshop or ongoing exhibitions.
